Jeanie & Dave's Wedding

Friday, May 7, 2004, 6:00 pm
Forrest Hills Resort, Dahlonega, GA

Overview

Every culture has their wedding traditions, and we, being a bit of a culture unto our own, have come to our own wedding concept. There is no doubt in our hearts and minds that we are an inseparable pair; marriage makes this easier for others to recognize. We want our wedding to celebrate not only this special kind of dedication, but also the ties shared among family and friends. Quick words exchanged with the ones we love on a frantic wedding day would not do. Therefore, we look to this occasion as a reunion, with time dedicated to remembering and strengthening the connections we share.
